

Press Releases – MAS Achieves IATA Ground Handling Partner (GHP) Certification

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dubai, 08 April 2025 – Mediterranean Aviation Services (MAS) is proud to announce its official recognition as an IATA Ground Handling Partner (GHP), a prestigious certification that reinforces MAS's commitment to the highest global standards in ground handling and flight support services.

As a newly certified IATA GHP Member, MAS joins a select group of industry leaders dedicated to safety, efficiency, and operational excellence in aviation ground services. This milestone strengthens MAS's global reputation and enhances its service offerings for airlines, private operators, and aviation partners worldwide.

"Achieving IATA's Ground Handling Partner certification is a testament to MAS's dedication to operational excellence and industry leadership," said Dr. Hassan Al Sakka Director of Operations. "This certification reaffirms our commitment to delivering world-class flight support solutions, and we look forward to leveraging this recognition to expand our partnerships and service capabilities."

As part of the certification, MAS gains exclusive benefits, including:

Recognition in IATA's official Ground Handling Partner Directory

Exclusive industry discounts on key aviation manuals and training programs

Access to IATA Ground Handling Conferences (IGHC) and global networking opportunities

MAS remains committed to setting new benchmarks in global ground handling, fuel services, flight permits, and operational support, ensuring seamless and reliable aviation solutions across the world.

For more information about MAS's services and the impact of this achievement, visit www.mediterr.aero.

About MAS:

Established in 2005, Mediterranean Aviation Services (MAS) is a leading provider of flight support, ground handling, and aviation solutions. With global expertise and a focus on seamless operations, MAS serves both airlines and private operators worldwide. Committed to safety, efficiency, and innovation, MAS has built a solid reputation as a trusted name in the aviation industry for two decades.

For media inquiries, please contact:

MA. Vallery Adriano | Marketing Specialist | Email: marketing@mediterr.aero | Phone +97147017142